

ABOUT RUTH GOODWIN

F.I.S.T.D and Principal of Beverley School of Performing Arts

Ruth graduated from Harrison College with her teaching qualifications in ISTD Ballet, Tap, Modern and National. She then went on to teach in Canada for 2 years as well as choreograph various performances.

Ruth has spent a lot of time training in New York at Broadway Dance studios and in recent years attended The PULSE teacher workshop with Brian Friedman.

She continued her training to reach Fellowship status with the ISTD and is also a Tutor of the ISTD Diploma of Dance Education (DDE).

Ruth has taught at many prestigious dance schools and colleges during her career. She was head of the ISTD and DDE course at BIRD College for many years before she took over, and continues to be Principal of The Beverley School of Performing Arts.

Ruth continues to teach students at all levels and is passionate about encouraging students to reach their goals and maintain the highest of standards.

Imperial Society of Teachers of Dancing

Approved Dance Centre